Expedition of CHOSROËS to India?

Unsuccessful invasion of DEZABUL, KHAN of the Turks, who had conquered the EPITHIALITES and became allies of the Eastern Empire.

Caradocus & his followers wrote the first textbook explaining how to compute Easter, beginning with the year 562 - a set of instructions widely used in the Middle Ages.

His textbook allowed generations of monks simply to follow a cookie-cutter recipe for determining date, rather than learn the processes behind the calculation

Cassiodorus's water clocks quickly fell into disrepair after he died, and no one knew how to fix them.

Cassiodorus first used the A.D. system in a published work when he and his monks wrote their textbook in 562 on how to determine Easter and other dates.

Slowly, the A.D. system was adopted by regions of Christendom. 7th Cen. Saxons in England used. In Paul in 8th Cen.

Parts of Spain adopted 1300's

Soon after the elderly Cosrodes published his textbook on COMPUTOS in 562, the eastern emperor Justinian died. His efforts ultimately proved disastrous, as he and his immediate successors found themselves overextended and unable to fend off fresh assaults by Lombards, Bavarians, Saxons, and other Germanic tribes.

These barbari were far less Romanized than the barbari Justinian destroyed most of the West again collapsed into near anarchy, with the only remnant of central authority residing in the church.

MAYA

Lord Water again (with Caracol) again attacked TIKAL leading a victorious "war at Tikal" assault.

The installation of inscribed monuments and construction of temples and pyramids dramatically declined at Tikal, while Caracol experienced a boom in building and ↓ Population. Double Bird (ruler of Tikal) killed.

This is what the GLYPHS say.
Some scientists say that is just a wish he put up to enhance his popularity (Popularity of Ford Water)
